'N'
'ROUND

Life's little tragedy occurred to a certain football fan in our fair city last Sunday. This is the first time we have gotten around to tell you about it, however.

It seems this fan is very much interested in Saint Mary's football team. Give him credit, for when he talks about football he knows what it's about—but he can't pick a winner.

Planning on seeing the St. Mary's game, the fan in question, seeing that St. Mary's Santa Clara game, he kept talking about this contest for several days, telling of the seat he was going to have.

Saturday night when he went to bed he set the alarm clock for eight o'clock in the morning. At eight the alarm rang. Still half asleep, he reached out, turned the alarm off, and went back to sleep.

The results were that he awoke at about two o'clock, just in time to hear the kick-off over the radio.

And there was a great moaning and a gasping of teeth on the part of the fan.

Speaking of football, everybody should be on hand to give the Galloping Gaels a send off when they start east soon for their game with Fordham.

This will be the first inter-sectional game for the Gaels, and they should show the east why they are rated so highly on the Pacific coast.

A Richmond boy will be on the team when it goes east—he is Adam Weisberger, who plays in the Santa Clara game. He is a first class player who has won the plaudits of sports writers and fans.

Wonder how California will make out against U. S. C. Saturday at Los Angeles?

But no matter how badly U. C. or Stanford is beaten, there will always be that Big Game spirit when the two teams meet.

V. F. W. GROUPS WILL INSTALL

Joint installation of officers for Honor Post and Auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars will be held tonight at the Memorial hall, it was announced last night.

Officers for Honor Post to be installed by Department Commander H. W. Winn are:

150 KILLED IN COAL MINE EXPLOSION IN EAST

89 BODIES BROUGHT OUT

MILLFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 5.—UP—With a roar that shook the countryside, a gas pocket in Mine No. 6 of the Sunday Creek Coal company here, exploded today killing more than 100 men.

The death toll was estimated at 150 tonight by C. C. Cook, vice president of the company, who announced 70 bodies had been recovered.

An hour later 19 were brought up alive. They were in a serious condition from the effect of gas and were taken to a field hospital.

The first bodies were brought to the surface at 11:15 o'clock tonight. Twelve bodies were raised in the elevator shaft.

Rescuers said that more than 100 had been located and were being brought to the bottom of the shaft where they were prepared for removal outside.

Cub Up Early
MILLFIELD, O., Nov. 5.—UP—Braving flames, smoke and deadly gases rescue crews late today were fighting to reach 150 men trapped at noon by an explosion in the Sunday Creek Coal company's mine No. 6.

All the men, among them mine officials who entered the shaft for inspection, were believed dead, victims of gas or crushed into the mine's alleys when the blast let go.

Junior Students Will Give Play

Atmosphere for the school play, "The Prince and the Pauper," to be given November 7 will be supplied by the boys' glee club and the orchestra of the Longfellow Junior High school. The members of the glee club takes an active role in the play as part of the crew of the pirate ship, while the orchestra is prepared to provide nautical music for overture, intermezzo, and finale.

The play is to be given by the Torchbearers of the Longfellow Junior High school under the direction of Miss Irma Kruse. Tickets are being sold by members of the student body.

The play is to be given Friday evening of this week at the Roosevelt auditorium.

Detroit To House Unemployed Men

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 5.—UP—Mayor Frank Murphy's unemployment plans moved a step forward today with the announcement that a nine-story building will be opened by the city within a few days as a home for homeless unemployed men.

The building, according to Mayor Murphy, is the first of several which will be opened this fall as part of the city-wide drive to prevent suffering among Detroit's 81,000 unemployed.

Curry Increases Lead To 16,000

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 5.—Incomplete returns from this district tonight gave C. F. Curry Jr., a majority of more than 16,000 over his nearest opponent, State Senator J. M. Imman.

At midnight tonight the vote tally stood: Curry, 42,812 and Imman, 25,964.

SAVINGS CLUBS URGED

TRENTON, N. J.—American Legion posts in New Jersey have been urged to form savings clubs in order to be able to attend the 1931 national convention of the Legion to be held in Detroit, Mich. The New Jersey department expects to have a delegation of at least 1,000 Legionnaires in Detroit, according to Roland F. Cowan, department adjutant.

Moore, Mackinnon, Grover Win Posts

Attorney John Moore was elected justice of the peace of Richmond township; Justice of the Peace L. F. Grover was re-elected justice of the San Pablo township, and in El Cerrito, Justice of the Peace A. H. MacKinnon was re-elected to office.

This was the result of a complete tally of the votes cast at Tuesday's election.

Moore was elected over his opponent, Arthur A. Alstrom by a margin of 318 votes in the hottest election held in this township for many years.

Moore polled 3081 votes, while Alstrom's total was 2763. In the San Pablo election Judge

Grover won by almost a two to one vote. In the four precincts in that district, Grover polled 426 while Henry Solto, his opponent polled 283.

Another close race was in the El Cerrito election, where Judge MacKinnon defeated Harold Jacoby by a slight majority. MacKinnon polled 973 and Jacoby received 837 votes.

In the congressional election, Richmond gave 4005 votes for C. F. Curry, Jr., while 732 votes were cast for J. M. Imman. In the entire county, 11,511 votes were cast for Curry and 2258 were cast for Imman.

Taxpayers To Name New Heads Tonight

Tonight members of the Contra Costa County Division of California Taxpayers' association assemble at Hotel Carquinez, Richmond, for their annual dinner meeting.

The purpose of the meeting is for the annual election of officers. According to the recommendation of the nominating committee consisting of M. A. Hays, Richmond; F. C. Stow, Martinez; Doctor G.

W. Likens, Crockett, all present officials are destined to be returned to office for the ensuing year, tonight.

The feature of the evening will be the appearance of Roland A. Vandegrift, secretary of the state division of California Taxpayers' association, who is here from Los Angeles to speak on "Operation of a Taxpayers' Association in the Program of Expenditure Control."

Report Meeting To Be Held By Drive

Bank of America is the first business house in Richmond to be 100 percent subscribers to the Community chest.

That was the announcement made from Chest headquarters yesterday as workers interviewed business men in the drive for six agencies represented in the chest.

First report meeting of the group will be held today at Hotel Carquinez. A substantial subscription is expected to be reported at that time.

It was reported from headquarters yesterday that the drive was delayed by the semi-holiday Tuesday when Richmond went to the polls along with the remainder of the state.

Workers were out in earnest today, and every indication pointed to a successful conclusion of the campaign.

Richmond Boy Scouts working under direction of R. F. Cox, Scout executive, had placed posters in show windows of various business houses.

Awarding of many 100 percent posters is expected to be an occurrence that will happen several times a day in the near future, it was said last night.

Al Good Named Head Of Kiwanis Club

Al Good is the new president of Richmond Kiwanis.

He was elected yesterday to succeed Lee Wharton, at a meeting in which Prof. Earl G. Linsley of Chabot observatory gave an illustrated lecture on "Seeing things at night or why an Astronomer."

William Smiley will serve as vice president; Leo Wharton, district trustee; Herbert Blake, treasurer. Directors named were: John Regello, Clinton Arnold, George Lee, Ben Malk, Harry Botger, Clifford Johnson and Earl Corey.

The illustrated lecture was enjoyed by the group. Al Good was chairman in the absence of Emil Esola.

Permit Asked for Sale Of Wines, Beer

Some resident of Richmond believes in not only doing his Christmas shopping early, but that the early bird catches the worm, or something.

Yesterday this citizen called City Clerk A. C. Faris and requested that he be granted a wine and beer selling permit at once.

Faris replied that this could not be done, as the country is dry and it is against the law to sell liquor.

The citizen immediately replied that maybe the country is dry now, but he read in the paper that several states have elected wet senators and congressmen and he believed that the prohibition amendment would be repealed. As a result, he said, he wanted to get his bid in early for the opening of a saloon.

GIRL SLAIN FOR $2.00

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—UP—For only a handful of silver coins, Benjamin Brown, a shabbily dressed, slim glass moulder, brutally murdered Mrs. Merle Ellis, 21, as she lay sleeping beside her infant son, he confessed to police today.

Brown claimed that the woman's husband, Emory Ellis, a restaurant handy man, promised him $2,000; but gave him only $2—a payment made with 20 dimes. Brown was arrested after Ellis' casually mentioned his name while being questioned.

The slayer said that Ellis did not tell him the woman to be killed was his wife, but that she was the estranged wife of a wealthy man and that he would receive $2,000 (Continued on Page Eight)

Norma Shearer Given Award

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—UP—The motion picture academy of arts and sciences tonight named Norma Shearer and George Arliss as having given the outstanding performances on the screen for the 12 months ending last July 31.

Miss Shearer was cited for her performance in "The Divorcee" and George Arliss for "Disraeli."

Awards in six other branches of the industry were made. Some 650 leaders in the film colony were present at an annual banquet in the Ambassador Hotel when the awards were made after completion of a mail vote in which the industry made its selections.

Moore Thanks Local Voters

"I wish to thank the voters of Richmond for the splendid majority given me Tuesday and the honor they conferred in electing me Justice of the Peace of the fifthteenth township."

"I am deeply grateful to all my friends whose hard and consistent work and support made my campaign a success and to whom I give all credit for my election."

JOHN MOORE.

Mix Stay In Hospital Set

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 5.—UP—Tom Mix, film cowboy, will spend the next three weeks in Hollywood hospital recuperating from spinal arthritis, his physician, Dr. R. Nichol Smith, announced today.

Mix received a back injury several years ago while performing with his horse, and is believed to have re-injured it when he stepped suddenly from his automobile.

SHIPSTEAD IN BALANCE OF POWER

At midnight last night the fight for control of the senate and the house of representatives had tightened considerably. United Press reports received here indicated.

With Kentucky and Minnesota unheard from, the standing in the senate was as follows:

Republicans: Elected 13, seats already held, 34, total 47.
Democrats: Elected 20, seats already held 26; total 46.

Farmer Labor member in the senate, one.
Necessary for majority, 49.

In the house of representatives, with final returns from Kentucky and Utah yet to be heard the standings were:

Democrats elected 211; Republicans elected 211; Farmer Labor elected 1; total 423. Seats still in doubt 12; necessary for majority, 218.

The fight will be decided early this morning, it was expected.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—UP—Democrats outdid their fondest election hopes and tonight working control of both Houses of Congress was almost, although not quite, within their grasp.

In the senate race, both parties were almost toeing the majority line.

Republicans had a total of 47 senators; elected tonight, two short of a clear majority of the 96 seats.

Near Prize
Democrats had 46 elected. The issue rested with two undecided seats, in Kentucky and in Minnesota.

Legion Official Will Visit Here

When C. A. Rexroad, state chaplain of the American Legion and a former soldier in the 91st Division visits Richmond Monday he will present the American Legion medals to school students who have been selected by the local committee.

Church Group To Meet Here Tonight

"The Future of the Church of Richmond" will be the topic of a symposium by several members of Richmond churches at the November meeting of the Richmond Church Fellowship this evening at the First Presbyterian church.

There will also be musical entertainment by the Richmond Melodians, which includes: Mrs. George Clarke, soprano; Mrs. Ralph Bergen, contralto; Lee Wharton, tenor; Max Holtz, basso and Mrs. Mary Barnett, accompanist.

President Aubrey Wilson will preside. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Students Hear Talk At Meeting

The telephone industry was the theme of an address given by W. C. Borchert before a meeting of the Richmond Union High school students yesterday morning. The talk was illustrated by films portraying the various phases of the industry.

Harry Transue, student body president, presided during the meeting.

VISITOR HERE
Mrs. John E. Roush is host this week to Mrs. George Morrison of LeMoore Calif., at her home at 541 Fortieth street.

Missing

CAPT. E. J. BURKE is being sought by airplanes in the wild blizzard—swept mountain country along the Yukon-British Columbia border. Burke, accompanied by his mechanic, Emil Kading, and Bob Marten, famous Alaskan prospector, hopped off from Atlin, B. C., Oct. 10 for 1st Lower Post, Alaska, and was never heard of again.

MAJORITY OF ROLPH GAINS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—UP—California remained a Republican stronghold tonight as tabulation of votes cast in the election Tuesday neared completion.

The only Democrat elected to congress from the state was Clarence Lea of the First district, who was unopposed.

The contests in the state for congress resulted in overwhelming victories for the Republican candidates, Joe Crail of the Tenth district and Charles F. Curry, Jr., of the third district, whose father, dean of the California delegation, died in Washington three weeks ago.

James Rolph, Jr., for many years mayor of San Francisco, was elected governor by a large majority. Returns from 8275 precincts out of 10,283 in the state gave him 792,459 votes against 204,888 for Milton K. Young, Democratic. His lead had been increasing steadily and he was expected to receive at least 600,000 more votes than his opponent.

Propositions to close certain business houses on Sunday and to provide daylight saving in this state were defeated. Bonds for a bridge across the Golden Gate and improvement of San Francisco harbor seemed to have sufficient support to insure passage.

Zeppelins Will Use Helium Gas

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—UP—Dirigibles will become as "safe as baby carriages" through the use of helium for lifting power and crude oil for fuel, Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, has predicted.

Dr. Eckener revealed in a speech at the annual banquet of the American Chamber of Commerce last night, that the Zeppelin works had changed plans for the country's newest airship to conform with the latest safety requirements, after being advised that the United States would supply as much of the non-inflammable helium as would be required.

Former Premier Of Italy Dies

TURIN, Italy, Nov. 5.—UP—Luigi Facta, former premier of Italy, died this morning at Pinero, in Piedmont. He was 69.

Facta was premier at the time Benito Mussolini led his Fascists in their famous march on Rome and established a dictatorship.

ON VISIT

For the past several weeks, Mrs. Sarah Pitchford, president of the War Mothers of Richmond, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emile Trabucco, in Marinopol, Mrs. Pitchford will return to Richmond this week-end.

CARLSON TO BE SPEAKER OF DAY

Richmond's observance of the twelfth anniversary of the signing of the armistice next Tuesday will consist of a parade and program, plans for which were completed by four representatives of veterans organizations at a meeting this week.

A parade in which all veterans' organizations of this city along with their auxiliaries will participate is to form at Second and Macdonald avenue at 9 o'clock Tuesday.

Mayor A. B. Hinkley, will be grand marshal of the parade.

Program Planned
Exactly at 9:30 a. m. the parade will start its march down Macdonald avenue. At Twelfth street it will turn and march to Memorial hall grounds where leaders of the veterans' organization and city officials, will be among the speakers of the day.

Thomas F. Nee, Spanish War Veterans commander will be master of ceremonies.

At the Memorial hall grounds the gathering will be called to attention by an invocation delivered by a minister to be named this week. Thomas M. Carlson will deliver the principal address.

Hinkley To Talk
Others who will speak will be Mayor A. B. Hinkley, Supervisor John Lutz, J. J. Barry, commander of Allied War Veterans; Thomas (Continued on Page Eight)

MANY FINED IN POLICE COURT

Fines collected in the court of Police Judge A. G. Thompson in El Cerrito last night totaled $465.

Three $100 fines were paid during the evening by Tony Vargo, on a charge of possession; E. Mackenna, on a gambling charge and E. E. Reynolds, on a reckless driving charge.

Others fined were: S. W. Corson, speeding $15; R. E. Hill, speeding $10; H. H. Service, speeding $10; M. M. Ripley, reckless driving $25; E. Brown, speeding $15; George Bramble, speeding $15; J. Balgin, speeding $20; Phil Winkler, speeding $15; Andro Lucia, speeding $15 and Henry Strank, speeding $25.

K. P. Lodge To Visit Vallejo

Richmond Knights of Pythia will meet at John Opman's store at 7:15 p. m. tonight to make the trip to Vallejo where they will visit the organization of that city.

Plans were made for the visit last night when the lodge met in regular session.

Report from the committee arranging Richmond lodge's part in the district convention program to be held in Pinole Nov. 21 was made last night following a meeting in Martinez with representatives of other lodges Tuesday.

"Ladies Night" is to be the theme of the convention. A dance will be held at that time. Cards will also be played.

ON VISIT

For the past several weeks, Mrs. Sarah Pitchford, president of the War Mothers of Richmond, has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Emile Trabucco, in Marinopol, Mrs. Pitchford will return to Richmond this week-end.

CAGE LEAGUE TO RESUME PLAY TONIGHT

Four more teams of the 1930 Richmond City Basketball league will be introduced to the cage fans of Richmond tonight.

The Odd Fellows and Studebakers will tangle in the A division contest at 8:30 o'clock, while, in the B division, the Mastercraft Roofers and the Garfinkle's quintet will go into action at 7:30.

The Odd Fellows are newcomers to the league, yet it is fairly certain that they will play a prominent part in 1930 competition. The linkers' team is composed of many outstanding players of local waxes floors. The lodge team includes: George Gordon, Joe Baldwin, Walt Gordon, Bill Gualdoni, Joe Viano, Clyde DeBaere, Doyle Taylor and Joe Marlin.

Tonight's contest ought to provide local fans with a heated exhibition of basketball, as the Studebakers are old hands at league competition and have always succeeded in remaining up near the top of the league ladder. Their lineup includes such men as the Muth brothers and Harry Bonham. The B contest will also provide a fine brand of basketball competition tonight if both teams live up to their reputations for hard, clever playing. The Garfinkle quintet consists of the greater part of last year's B division championship outfit, Mammy's Place. The Roofers are reputed to have a squad that will give the Garfinkle cagers a fast run tonight.

GREAT ARTHUR WILL CLAIM BRIDE

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—UP—Art "What-A-Man" Shires, major league baseball player, applied for a marriage license today and stepped out of character long enough to ask for once, that there be little publicity.

Shires was accompanied by his prospective bride, Mary Elizabeth Greenbaum, 18, of Chicago, a pretty blonde.

Shires gave his age as 23 years and said that he was living in Hollywood. He is soon to appear in two episodes of "The Leather Pushers," being filmed by Universal.

Miss Greenbaum was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. L. Greenbaum. The girl said she was a student at the University of Wisconsin. Shires said he was employed by the Washington baseball club.

Shires the great tried to slip away from the marriage license bureau before reporters were aware of his presence, but the word reached them and a battery of photographers appeared.

"Shires was very modest and said nothing about what a great athlete he is," said Rosamond Rice, chief of the marriage license bureau. "The girl is very sweet."

High School Eleven Will Meet Alameda

The Richmond Union High school gridders will meet in their last Alameda County Athletic league football game of 1930 tomorrow afternoon when it tangles with the Alameda varsity squad at Neptune stadium.

The cellar will be the prospect for the losers of tomorrow's contest. The clash at Neptune should therefore provide a maximum amount of rivalry between Richmond and Alameda tomorrow afternoon.

The starting lineup for Richmond in tomorrow's contest includes: Juillerat and Drexel, ends; Lilly and Westman, tackles; Ayala and Hooper, guards; Hall, center; Boschetti, quarter back; Snodgrass and Masek, halfbacks and Baskett, fullback.

Haskell Eleven Will Meet With Gonzaga Gridders

DENVER, Nov. 5.—Twenty-five members of the Haskell Institute football team are expected to work out here today upon their arrival from Lawrence, Kan., en route to Spokane, where they are to play Gonzaga University on Armistice Day.

The Indian gridders will stop off at Pullman, Wash., for a workout on Saturday and then will watch Washington State play the University of Idaho.

After the Gonzaga game, Haskell will play the University of Southern Idaho at Pocatello on Nov. 15.

Valentino Will Fight Opened

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—UP—Four years after the death of Rudolph Valentino, a suit in which his heirs contest the final accounting of his estate by S. George Ullman, resigned executor, opened in superior court today.

Valentino's brother and sister, Alberto Guglielmi and Maria Strada, charge that Ullman, through mismanagement and misrepresentation, listed the estate as comprising $100,000 in assets when it should be worth approximately $1,000,000.

Ullman's attorney contended at the opening today that at the time of Valentino's death in 1926 there were more than $500,000 in liabilities and that only Ullman's management had realized $100,000 in assets. Ullman's testimony today was chiefly about his early relations with Valentino.

Player Enjoys Marathon Golf
NORTH TONAWANDA, N. Y.—Ray Koenig, local hardware dealer, sought to convince a friend that 120 holes of golf could be played during the time between dawn and dusk. So he set out at 5:15 a. m. and when he returned, at 7:30 p. m., he had completed 126 holes. He lost six pounds as a result. Koenig thinks little of playing 54 and 72 holes a day.

Deer Killed By Automobile
TROY, N. Y.—A young buck deer's first sojourn into civilization ended in death when it was struck by an automobile here. The deer first was seen in a yard. It jumped over several fences and ran directly in front of the machine. No one knew where the deer came from.

FIGHT RACKET PROBE TO OPEN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Men connected with the "fight racket" were not so certain that they would do today as they faced the possibility of being called when it meets tomorrow under Allen B. Bixby for its first session.

The meeting called for 10 o'clock in room 108 of the state building, may summon Toby Irwin, suspended referee of the fatal Campbell-Baer fight to answer some of the questions the body might want to ask.

It was indicated that Irwin might plead a previous engagement with the superior court in his suit against John P. Murphy, foreman of the grand jury.

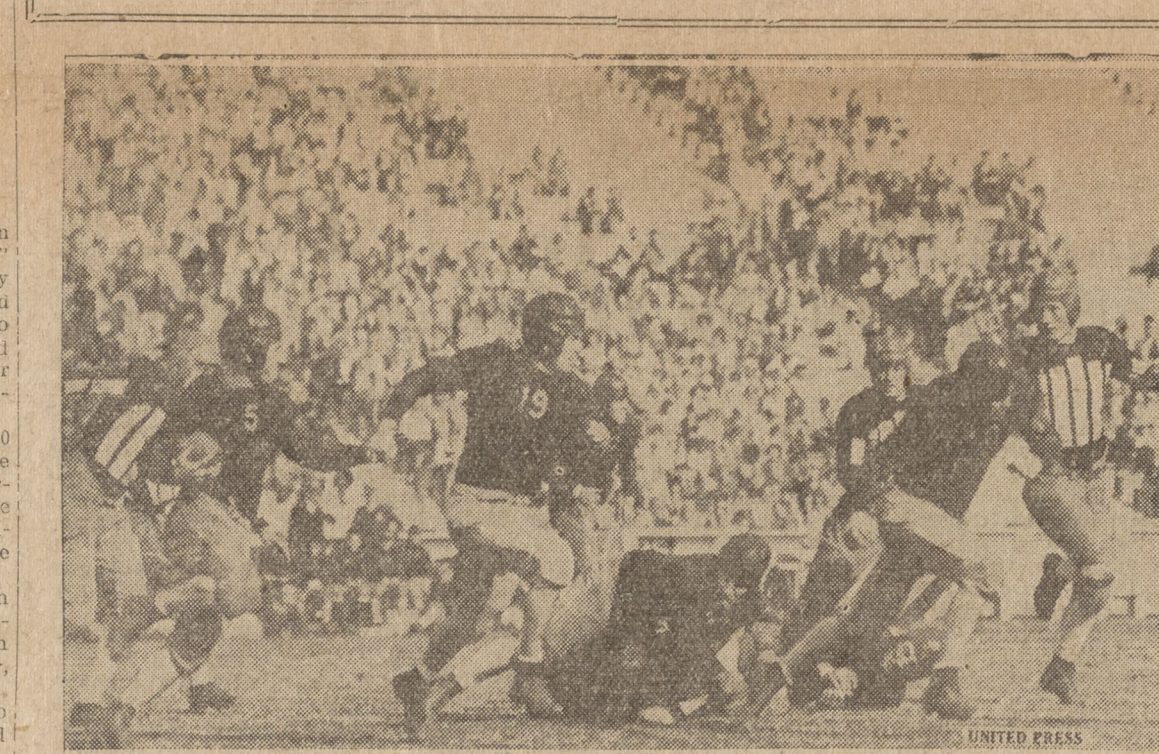

"Gus" Olivia is another who may be called. He too may plead a previous engagement. He is to appear before the grand jury at 10 o'clock tomorrow along with witnesses to endeavor to refute affidavits disclosed by Charles Traugott, and attributed to Baer, whom he tried to have "throw" a fight.

Leon Samuels, attorney for Olivia said they "might" appear. If the body should summon them. The men who will probe the "racket" under Bixby, who arrived from Pasadena yesterday are: William M. Collier, president of the western division of the Amateur Athletic union; John A. Sinclair, attorney, judge advocate for the California American Legion, and C. S. Huston, lithographer.

Taming Grizzlies

THERE WASN'T much fight left in the University of Montana's Grizzlies after the first quarter. From that period on the California Golden Bears ran wild, rolling up a score of 46-0. Picture shows Schaldach (No. 5), California, making 12 yards around right end in the second quarter. Beckett (No. 13), Cahn (No. 27) and Potter (No. 19) are shown blocking interference out of Schaldach's path.

Man Freezes Hands During Heat Wave

MACOMB, Ill.—While the mercury hovered around the 100 mark during the most recent heat wave, H. H. Collier was in a local hospital suffering from frozen hands. Collier, an employee of a local dairy company, sustained the frozen hands while cleaning the frost from coils of cooling machinery in the refrigeration room of the plant.

Many Cross Highest Bridge

CANON CITY, Colo.—More than 30,000 people already have crossed the "highest bridge in the world." The structure recently was completed over the Royal Gorge. It is suspension type and at its highest point is more than 1200 feet above the gorge.

New Oil Boom Hits Colorado

DENVER, Colo.—Colorado has the distinction of being the second oil producing state in the United States, according to the State Bureau of Immigration. At the same time, Colorado is among the latest to attract major oil operators for large-scale development as a probable source of a large part of the nation's future crude oil supply.

The "highest bridge in the world," the structure recently was completed over the Royal Gorge. It is suspension type and at its highest point is more than 1200 feet above the gorge.

DOWAGIAC, Mich.—UP—So far records are concerned, Cass county boasts of the oldest twins in the state, Francis and Franklin Phillips, 72. They were born at Florence, St. Joseph county.

Fidel LaBarba On Way To 2nd Championship

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Fidel LaBarba, the earnest little gentleman from California who gave Kid Chocolate the first real beating of the dusky youngster's career Monday night, is close to his second world's championship.

LaBarba, former flyweight champion, now stands out as the best of the featherweights, and it is only a question of time before Bat Battalino, the blatant Connecticut boy who acquired the title in various ways, will have to fight him or step aside.

It is planned to match LaBarba with Bud Taylor of Terre Haute for a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden, Nov. 28.

Chocolate proved a great disappointment, especially to those who bet on him at odds which went as long as 4 to 1. The Cuban was underweight far from his best condition, lacked speed, timing and other essentials and generally failed to perform up to expectations.

It was learned that "the Kid" finally had succumbed to the temptation of the bright lights and had departed recently from the asset team which marked and aided his early career.

The kid will carry on, and may work himself back into shape and become a champion, possibly some day the lightweight champion, for he is growing. But he is out of the picture for the time being, and the dark-eyed, serious little boy who beat him is headed for the big money.

Young Corbett Wins Fast Bout From Joe Cooper

OAKLAND, Nov. 5.—UP—A three-to-one favorite, Young Corbett of Fresno, leading contender for the welterweight championship knocked out Farmer Joe Cooper of Chicago after two minutes of fighting in the first round of a scheduled ten round bout here tonight.

Twice Corbett sent Cooper back against the ropes with rights to the body that brought pained expressions and then the California challenger swung his right to Cooper's jaw for a knockout. Corbett was hardly touched. Each fighter weighed 149 pounds.

Moran, Ex-Boxer, Now An Engineer

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 5.—UP—Quitting one game before he was beaten led to success in another for Jack Moran, former heavyweight boxer, who now is an industrial research engineer.

Moran retired from the ring in 1921 after a listless career of seven years.

Moran fought such men as Jack Dempsey, Carl Morris, Fred Fulton, Battling Levinsky, Gunboat Smith, Billy Miske and Jack Dillon.

He rose to his peak in 1917 when he fought Levinsky for the light heavyweight championship of the world and lost. A losing bout with Carl Morris marked Moran's last fight.

Archery Seen As New Sport Craze

PINEHURST, N. C.—Archery will assume a new position of importance in American sport after the miniature golf craze is over, in the opinion of Carl G. Thomson, of Canandaigua, N. Y., president, now visiting Pinehurst.

The N. A. A. president, who is eastern champion and finished third in the national championship tournament at Chicago, said reports in the South are making insistent demands for archery ranges while in the north during the past summer the number of bow and arrow votaries might be said to have doubled.

Japan's First Baby Golf On 'White Way'

TOKYO, Nov. 5.—UP—Japan's first miniature golf links has been opened on the Ginza, principal Tokyo shopping thoroughfare and the capital's "gay white way." The Japanese indoor game is described by its promoters as an improvement over the miniature game as played in the United States in that a full set of clubs can be used.

Golf has made a great headway in Japan in the last two years. More than a dozen outdoor clubs are in operation throughout the main islands and have thousands of members. So far there are no public courses.

MADISON SQUARE GARDENS IN DISREPUTE

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—UP—"The House That Jack Built" has fallen into disrepute.

Madison Square Garden has seen its best days. Already, its organization is coming apart, and an offer of $8,000,000 for the capital stock, with the lock and the rain-barre thrown in sounds good to some who were proud to be numbered among the "600 millionaires" of yesterday.

Jack Dempsey, as heavyweight champion, made Madison Square Garden possible; made it a necessity; made it what it is today or rather what it should be if the boxing game hadn't fallen to pieces after Jack's defeat and retirement.

When Tex Rickard squinted those shrewd eyes of his down the inevitable cigar one blistering July day in Boyle's Thirty Acres and saw his dream of a "gate" of more than $1,000,000 come true, the late promoter started right in on another dream which was to materialize in the form of Madison Square Garden. Dempsey's popularity, his ring prestige, made the fight game, and hence the Garden. As long as he was slaughtering pale Frenchmen or swarthy Argentinians, the Garden was an absolute necessity. Even some terrible fights perpetrated in the sports temple looked great to the admiring fans.

All that is changed. After Dempsey there was only Tunney, and Gene was only half a fight. The decline has been gradual and not immediately was it apparent for after Rickard's death, the new Garden crowd kept the fight business inflated and expected to carry it on with nothing more than the ballyhoo. The customers finally found out about that, although it took them an extraordinarily long while to do so.

Right now, things are pretty bad, although W. F. Carey insists upon hanging on as president of the Garden and professes to see better days ahead. He says the men backing the Garden are interested in it as a sporting proposition, even if it doesn't pay. Well, as to that, we'll see what we shall see.

The departure of Frank January Bruen, who had been handling fights for the Garden with characteristic good humor, if no very great financial success, was a step towards retrenchment. Closing down on fight cards in the Boston Garden and calling off any Miami show for next February are said to be in the same line of economy. James N. Crofton, secretary and general manager of the Aqua Caliente company, discussed the purchase of the Garden from its present stockholders with Frank Bruen shortly before the latter's resignation became effective. Mr. Crofton sought plenty of publicity on that occasion, and announced he had offered $8,000,000. The crowd he represents have the money, all right, but it saved more of an advertising stunt for Aqua Caliente than a bona fide offer.

TENNIS MATCH SLATED FOR WEEKEND

A group of fast matches are being arranged for this week-end's round of the Richmond Turkey Handicap tennis tournament, by the committee headed by Phil Carlin.

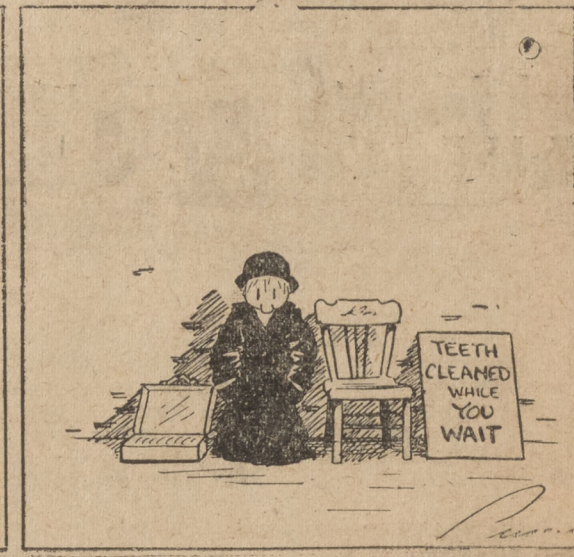

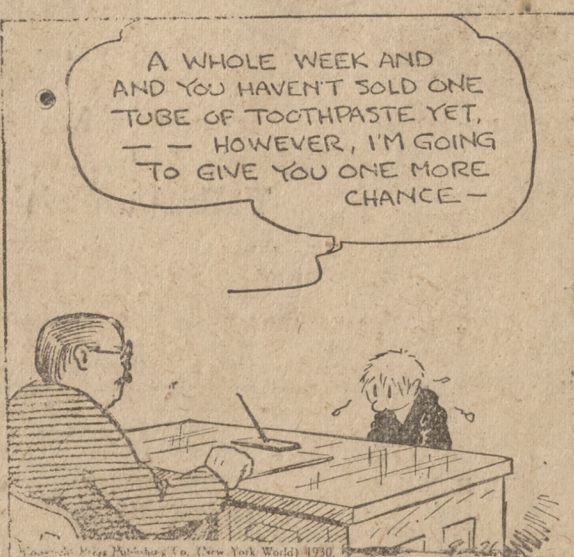

The match played by Hurley and Lou Elligood last week-end will be replayed this week-end because of an error in the original handicap. The original match was won by Elligood by a score of 7-5, 6-3.

Virginia Stadium Nears Completion

UNIVERSITY, Va., Nov. 5.—UP—Athletic facilities of the University of Virginia will be more than doubled with completion of a current program involving expenditure of several hundred thousand dollars. The major construction is a new stadium made possible by a gift of $300,000 from Frederic W. Scott, Richmond, rector of the university.

Thirty tennis courts are being laid out. Lady Nancy Astor started the fund with a gift of $50,000 and a total of $20,000 is being invested in the courts.

MOOSEHEART PAYS HONOR TO MEMBERS

Pioneer days in California were revived last night when Women of Mooseheart Legion met at a banquet to honor charity members of the Richmond organization.

Thirteen women were present last night, who were in attendance at the meeting that organized the local group. Everyone present was attired in clothes popular during the pioneer period of the country.

A banquet table decorated with materials reminiscent of the early days added to the effectiveness of the affair. A miniature covered wagon pulled by toy oxen set upon the banquet table brought forth many admiring expressions from the large gathering.

Mrs. Marie Lee Kelly was especially honored with a large bouquet for her devotion to the organization.

Every charter member was given a special present by the Legion. Mrs. Kelly is also a charter member.

Women who arranged the affair were, Mrs. Nellie LaLonde, Mrs. Velma Mae Quinn, Mrs. Daisy Mayo and Mrs. Minnie Phillips. Songs popular during the earlier days, and dances of that time were again used last night during the entertainment.

Mrs. Clara Barry presided at a business meeting which preceded the party. Plans were made at that time for an initiation to be held next Wednesday. Mrs. Celia Rook will be in charge of entertainment that night.

At a whist party yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Daisy Mayo was awarded the door prize, while Mrs. Anna Hunt, Mrs. Ida Gordon, and Mrs. S. Tease were awarded prizes for high scores.

Peres P. T. A. To Hold Food Sale

Home cooked foods will be on sale at the food sale of the Peres P. T. A. Saturday at the Quality Market. Plans for the sale are under the direction of Mrs. J. H. Narvaez.

C. E. Food Sale Is Postponed

Food sale planned to be given by First Christian church Christian Endeavor Saturday has been postponed until a future date, announcement from the group last night said.

DUCK INHERITS PUPPIES DOG LEFT

BERKELEY, Nov. 5.—UP—Something more than an ordinary duck is George.

She gave promise of eccentricity soon after she had waddled into her new home—the barnyard of Frank Rieber. She was bought as "George" an unknown as "George" for three days. Then she laid an egg and was rechristened "Georgette."

Shortly afterward, Rieber's dog, Josephine, had a litter of puppies. In no time almost while her young were still needful of a mother's care, she was roaming the alleys and hills in search of giddy pleasure—and Georgette inherited the orphan.

The pups grew up and went the alleyward and billiard way of their mother. Georgette was left alone. Then came Squeakie, a cat. Like Josephine, Squeakie found herself the reluctant head of a family. Like Josephine, Squeakie was deaf to the duties of motherhood, and Georgette was once again an adopted mother.

She learned to drink milk, and every afternoon when a pan of milk had been placed on the porch, Georgette, clacking and fussing like an old maid, would marshal her small charges and herd them across the yard.

Then the kittens grew up. Georgette moped and refused her food. The Rieber children were discomfited. Finally one day, Mary Elizabeth, 12, hit upon an idea. That night, when she and her two brothers came home, they brought two white mice.

Georgette, now about four years old, is not as spry as she was, but she is happy.

The three of them, Georgette and the two mice, are inseparable.

Congressman 1905-1915. Government
Director of War Savings during World War.

"Americans love to do their own thinking—But they welcome facts from others. You are wise in letting every smoker know that you employ the modern Ultra Violet Ray principle in 'Toasting LUCKY STRIKE' tobaccos. This 'extra secret process' is a remarkable revelation."

James Francis Burke

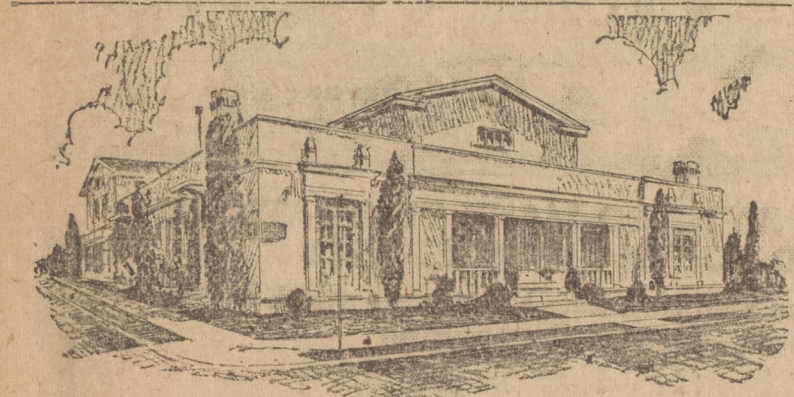

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray. LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." ## FILM OF OLD WEST AT THE FOX TODAY

First it was lowing herd. "The Virginian" tumbled audiences with its thousands of cattle crying out as they thundered along. Then it was the mickering herd. "The Light of Western Stars" combined the neighs of a horde of stampeding horses with the "meow" of cattle.

The braying of a donkey was an important comedy motif in "Old Arizona." Now it is the bleating herd. "The Santa Fe Trail" which Paramount has adapted from Hal G. Edwards' novel, "Spanish Acres" and which the Fox-California theater will headline, today and tomorrow is the first big production to record the continuous drone of thousands of sheep as they move before the cameras and microphones.

Like "The Virginian," "The Light of Western Stars" and "The Border Legion" which preceded it to the screen, the new film includes the sounds of horse and cattle voices but its ne wthrill is the sound of calling sheep.

Richard Arlen appears as the owner of herd of 10,000 sheep which he has brought into New Mexico after having survived the sheep-cattle wars in Kansas. With him is Eugene Pallette, his pal, and Junior Durkin, an orphan whose father was killed while fighting on Arlen's side in Kansas. Rosita Moreno is cast opposite Arlen as a senorita, whose father owns Spanish Acres. Mitzi Green, nine-year-old actress plays a western child, the ward of Rosita.

Many of the sheep sequences were filmed on location and a number of large southern California herds of sheep were assembled for the production.

INDIAN DATA FOUND IN EAST

MT. CARMEL, Ill., Nov. 5.—UP.—Evidence of primitive man, disclosed by the discovery of hundreds of mounds near here, may give scientists important data as to Indian habitation along Wabash banks thousands of years before America's discovery.

These mounds, numbering over 650, were located during a survey recently completed by the Archaeological Survey of the University of Illinois. Their scientific value is as yet undetermined, according to Professor Arthur R. Kelly, who conducted the survey.

Crude paintings, painstakingly rubbed into rock, stone carvings, weapons, tools and other discoveries indicate that the Wabash river and its tributaries were, for many centuries, areas of intensive Indian settlement. One group of 65 mounds was found in Clark county.

Crawford county however, seems to have been the center of occupation in the Wabash region and proved to have a total of more than 100 mounds of various sizes and types. Wabash county contained almost 100, while White, Lawrence and Clark counties claimed between 75 and 100 mounds each.

In general, the mounds of the Wabash region were of medium size, though some were as large as Egypt's smaller pyramids.

ROCKY MOUNTS PROBLEM FILM STATES GO DEMOCRAT NOW SHOWING AT RICHMOND

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 4.—UP.—Election returns tonight established Democrats as four of the five Rocky Mountain states had uncompromisingly elected their Republican opponents at the polls Tuesday.

In Montana, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, dry Democrat, was re-elected for a fourth term by a majority of nearly 20,000 votes over Justice Albert J. Galen, wet Republican.

In Colorado Democrats won the senatorship, the governorship and re-elected one incumbent congressman. Three other incumbent congressmen, both Republicans, were re-elected.

Adams Wins
Edward P. Cullen, a former member of the federal tariff commission, was swept into the United States senate in the Democratic landslide by a plurality of at least 40,000 votes over his Republican opponent, George H. Shaw.

Gov. W. H. Adams, a veteran of 40 years of political life, was elected to his third consecutive term over Robert Rockwell, Republican. It was the first time in the history of Colorado that a governor has been elected three times.

The three incumbent Republican congressmen re-elected were William R. Eaton, first district; Charles B. Timberlake, second district; and Guy U. Hardy, third district. The campaign in the first district was conducted on the prohibition question. Laurence Lewis, Democrat, favored repeal. Edward T. Taylor, fourth district, was the Democrat incumbent re-elected.

In New Mexico
New Mexico Democrats succeeded in retaining from office Albert Stans, Republican congressman who sought re-election, and sent Dennis Craver to Washington in his place with Senator Sam G. Bratton, Dem., who defeated H. B. Holt, Rep. The governorship also went to a Democrat, Arthur Seligman, Santa Fe banker. His opponent was C. M. Elbert, Rep.

Republicans scored a decisive victory in Wyoming. Robert D. Carey, Rep., former governor, won the senatorship by a majority of 11,000 over his Democratic opponent, Harry H. Schwartz. He succeeds Senator Patrick J. Sullivan who is vacating his seat.

Vicent Carter, incumbent Republican, was returned to office in a close race with Leslie A. Miller, Democrat. With all but a few precincts to report, the count stood: Emerson, 27,843; Miller 26,575.

Don R. Colton, incumbent Republican congressman, and F. C. Leach, Democrat, were victorious in the first and second congressional districts in Utah.

The Republicans also won every office in Idaho. Senator William E. Borah defeated his Democratic opponent, Joseph Tyler, by a plurality of nearly 40,000 votes.

Barton L. French and Addison T. Smith, incumbent Republican congressmen, both were re-elected by substantial majorities.

One Democratic and one Republican congressman, each an incumbent, was returned to office in Montana. They were John M. Evans, Dem. (W) first district and Mark B. Fitzgarrald, Rep., W—second district.

The number of missing girls has grown to such an alarming total that the question has become a national problem. Nearly every village and city in the United States has its cases of missing girls, more than 75,000 being reported in 1927.

Many reasons have been advanced for this epidemic which is robbing the happiness of American homes, and prominent social workers and civic authorities have given the matter much serious thought, but the disappearances continue to be reported in increasing numbers from every walk of life. Exceptional publicity has been recently given to the cases of daughters of wealthy parents, but thousands of girls of less prominence receive but a mere mention in the daily newspapers. The fact that they have been swallowed up in the great unknown has become an everyday occurrence.

Why do girls run away? What impels them to leave home and lose themselves in the shadows of big cities to face unknown perils, while frenzied relatives and police search the world for them?

What is the psychology that seals a girl's lips and makes her adamant to the frantic appeals of her agonized family to return? What happens to these girls that they do not return to their homes, if able, and prefer to face the vicissitudes of life, peril and hardships rather than have their loved ones learn of their harrowing adventures?

Many Solutions Offered

Divers reasons for the strange actions of modern youth have been suggested. Noted novelists have given us stories of flaming youth and the Restless Sex. Peculiar conditions arising out of the World War, have been blamed; then the unrest of the modern girl's attitude, the Volstead law, automobiles and jazz.

Fresh solutions have been advanced by scientists and medical men, and enlarged thyroids and the presence of pituitary glands have been solemnly pointed to as the cause of the unrest among the now thoroughly restless sex.

Where do these countless girls go? Do they seek adventure? Tire of school's recent discipline? Seek "freedom"? Become victims of forbidden love? The subject has become a national problem.

Now comes a well known motion picture producer, Willis Kent, who has made a study of the situation for several years with a view to dramatizing the possibilities of his theme. He has produced a sensational photoplay showing the perils and pitfalls of the modern flapper without resentment called "The Primrose Path" at the Richmond Theater today and tomorrow.

In the cast there are such other well known players as John Darrow, Dorothy Granger, Lane Chandler, DeWitt Jennings, Virginia Pearson and Julia Swayne Gordon. It is an all talking sensational picture that not only talks on the screen but that it will be talked about over this entire community.

Hunt Wins In Arizona Vote

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 5.—UP.—Holding a majority of more than 3500 votes, George W. P. Hunt, Democratic governor of Arizona for six terms, tonight was conceded a seventh year of office by 128 precincts out of 502 in the state where Governor John C. Phillips, Republican, conceded Hunt's victory when large outlying precincts added to the former governor's lead.

Seven other Democratic candidates for important state offices were elected at Tuesday's election.

STATE LEGION ASKED TO AID JOBLESS

In a letter to Department Commander, B. W. Gearhart, of Fresno, Calif., the national commander of the American Legion, Ralph I. O'Neil, of Topeka, Kas., recently elected, and as one of his first official acts, urges that every Legionnaire in this state be requested by the department commander to join in a nationwide campaign to end unemployment, it was announced today.

"Our country is in the throes of an unemployment situation, which challenges the American Legion to give that same loyalty and support which the Legion gave in a similar emergency in 1921 and 1922," the letter reads. "I am writing this letter to ask you to take up that challenge in your department."

"The 881,000 members of our organization throughout the nation are men of stability in their own communities, or they would not be in the Legion. This is evidenced by the fact that in 1929 1930, when the lack of employment was fully felt, our organization increased its membership to the highest point in its history. Therefore, we can reasonably assume, that a majority of Legionnaires have standing and influence in the business and industrial world."

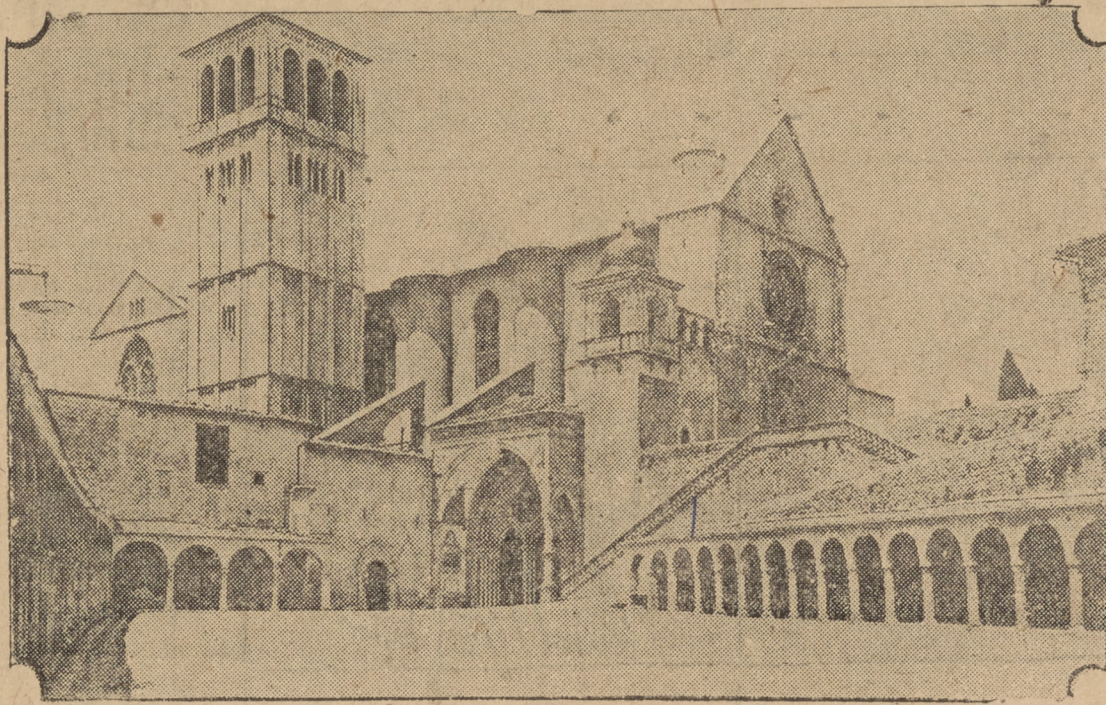

"May I ask that you transmit to every Legionnaire in your department my earnest request that every effort be made to provide work for their comrades less fortunate than themselves. No man, who served the colors in war, will ask for charity. He will accept a job from a comrade, however, and be grateful for the chance to make his own living, just as he shared the hardships and sometimes the food or cigarettes of his comrades in the war zones."

"What a magnificent thing it would be, if every member of the Legion would accept the individual obligation of finding, in some manner, at least one job for an idle comrade. Nearly one million men put to work, nearly half of those abnormally out of work in the country at this time, according to latest available estimates of President Hoover, could easily turn the tide of unemployment, back to a revival of good times."

"At the same time, may I ask that each post in your department, if at all possible, start any building, or remodeling work which it might have under consideration and for which it can arrange the financing."

"If you, and the Legionnaires of your department, do this, you will be living up to two principles in the preamble of our constitution: 'To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to community, state and nation,' and, 'To consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.'"

JOAN LOWELL PLANS TRIP

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 5.—UP—Joan Lowell, author of the much discussed book "The Cradle of the Deep," plans to go to Europe shortly "on a regular steamer, so I can meet a real steam captain."

In an interview here she said she hoped to be "a lady in London, but a sculler maid in Holland."

Her trip, due to start early next year, will be for the purpose of "gaining more experience."

But most of all she said "I want to meet a real steam captain. I have an aversion to them. You know, the kind of sailor I am, not a real sailor."

In an address before the Rotary club here, Miss Lowell startled the audience, composed of members and their wives, when she said: "I've been called 47 different varieties of undesirable persons. Now let's have a standing vote—have I or have I not any sex appeal."

There was a burst of applause after the Rotarians glanced at their wives.

Her father's plan for raising children, also provoked a laugh. It was, she said "Give 'em a dose of salts and the end of a rope."

DEFENSE URGED BY LEGION OF NATION

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5.—Continued support of the reserve officers training corps and the citizens military training camps will be an important part of the national defense program of the American Legion in the coming year. Resolutions adopted at the recent national convention of the Legion in Boston deplored the action of certain misguided individuals, an societies who are seeking to destroy the R. O. T. C. by having it abolished in our schools and colleges and recommended that every department of the Legion be directed to appoint state and county chairmen to cooperate in all C. M. T. C. activities.

The Legion's definite stand on the minimum needs of national defense was embodied in the following resolution: "We reaffirm our position to the effect that the minimum needs of national defense demand adequate appropriations by congress for the support of a regular army of not less than 12,000 officers and 125,000 enlisted men, including the Philippine Scouts; a National Guard of not less than 210,000; annual training of 26,000 reserve officers and not less than 40,000 C. M. T. C. trainees."

As an aid to national defense, the support of the American Legion marksmanship program will likewise be continued. This program includes participation of an American Legion national rifle team in the national matches; inter-departmental rifle and pistol matches to be held at Camp Perry, Ohio; national postal and junior team matches; the International Rifle rifle match and the continuation of the policy of organizing rifle clubs and junior rifle clubs within the posts of the Legion. It was specifically recommended that congress increase by $50,000 its financial aid to civilian rifle clubs.

The following resolutions were adopted on naval affairs: "1—We urge the national congress to immediately enact the necessary legislation to bring our naval establishment to the strength provided by the London

Wet Republican Leads In Race In Washington

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 5.—UP—As tabulations for Tuesday's elections were almost completed here today, it was seen that Ralph Horr and Congressman Sam Hill were elected as members to the national house of representatives.

In the first congressional district, 457 out of 460 precincts gave Ralph Horr, wet Republican, a lead of 12,194 votes over his Democratic opponent, Charles G. Heifner. Horr polled 43,233 votes to 31,039 for Heifner.

Congressman Sam Hill, Democrat, running for re-election in the fifth congressional district, was elected when he received a huge majority over his Republican opponent, I. W. Symons, Jr. Hill received 32,478 votes to 11,218 for Symons, according to figures received from 437 out of 542 precincts.

All other questions on the Washington ballot this year dealt with community problems.

"3—We petition the navy department of the United States to change navy regulations so as to permit enlisted men of the naval reserve, when injured on duty at any practice drill or cruise, to be entitled to the same compensation and hospitalization as enlisted men of the regular naval service."

"4—We urge the congress of the United States to lend its support to the building up of an American merchant marine that would be a credit to the American nation in peace times and would be a factor in assisting the navy in case of war." Among other resolutions adopted was one urging adequate pay for the army, navy, marine corps, coast and geodetic survey, coast guard and public health service."

J. HAM LEWIS WINS STATE NOMINATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—UP—Return of the debonair Democrat, James Hamilton Lewis, to the United States Senate after 10 years with the largest vote ever accorded a Democratic candidate in Illinois put the state definitely in the vanguard of the wet columns.

Lewis, who won over both Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican and Lott Holman O'Neill, Independent, by a majority exceeding 500,000, ran on a dripping wet "personal liberty platform."

To make sentiment of the state doubly certain, the voters for the third time signified in a referendum their approval of three proposals to repeal the 18th amendment, modify the Volstead Act, and repeal the state search and seizure act.

Lewis rests. After a night of watching votes for him pile up after he had issued a statement commending Mrs. McCormick for her "courageous" race and after he had refused to smile for photographs "in exultation over defeat of a woman," Lewis disappeared for a rest.

Lewis represents the old school of oratory and statesmanship. Political writers like to talk about his "amber voice" and his "silver phrases." Cartoonists like to draw caricatures of famous whiskers, which were a weird pink years ago, but which now have turned almost white.

As Senator Lewis worked tirelessly for the legislation sought by President Wilson during the World War, he became the Democratic whip in the senate, then went to war only to be wounded slightly at Chateau Thierry.

When King Albert of Belgium cited him for decoration, Lewis politely explained that the law of his country forbade him as a senator from accepting a foreign order of knighthood.

He previously had served as congressman, as a colonel in the Spanish American war and in his private life built up one of the most profitable law offices in the middlewest.

Mrs. McCormick took her defeat gamely, as befitting the daughter of the late Republican warrior, Mark Hanna. She sat up all night listening to the returns which shattered her hopes more severely almost as each new precinct made known its vote.

Lands Lewis She issued a congratulatory telegram to Lewis, gave out a statement in which she said she had lost faith in Republican tenets, said that she planned to remain in public life, and then went to her hotel for a long, uninterrupted sleep, something she had not had for the past many weeks.

"Oh, Lord, we were swamped," she told callers when she awakened late today.

Estelle Smith Freed Of Charges

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—UP—Charges of vagrancy filed against Estelle Smith, witness against Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings who recently testified about those cases before the state supreme court, were dismissed today by Municipal Judge George W. Schofield.

Mrs. Smith was arrested Tuesday in a Chinatown hotel. Judge Schofield ruled the arresting officers had only known her one day, while an investigation of at least 10 days should be made before such an arrest.

Republicans Win In Utah Election

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Nov. 5.—UP—Two Republican congressmen were reasonably assured of election late today on the basis of returns from 596 of Utah's 890 precincts.

F. C. Lofthourow, Rep., was leading Dr. J. H. Paul, Salt Lake, Dem., by a margin of 2339 votes in the second congressional district. The vote: Lofthourow 28,129; Paul 23,790; George Lawrence, wet, Liberty party, 5373.

Congressman Don B. Colton, Rep., first district, had piled up a lead of 9078 over Joseph Ririe, Democrat.

INDEPENDENT IN VICTORY AT OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5.—UP—Oregon residents showed themselves as decidedly in favor of the "public ownership and development of power" idea when they elected a governor and a congressman on that platform in the election Tuesday.

Returns from 1649 out of 1909 precincts in Oregon gave Julius L. Meier, independent candidate for governor, 127,480 votes, as compared with 56,045 for Edward Ballington, approximately $25 was levied, Democratic candidate, and 42, raised in fines which will be $32 for Phil Metschan, Republican, used for entertainment purposes.

In the first congressional district W. C. Hawley, Republican chairman of the "ways and means committee" of the national house of representatives, was elected when he polled 46,659 votes to 38,414 for his Democratic opponent, W. A. Delzell.

R. R. Butler, Republican, was re-elected to the national house of representatives from the second district when he received 21,013 votes to 10,934 for R. E. Bradford, Democrat.

Senator Charles L. McNary, Republican, was re-elected by an overwhelming majority over Elton Watkins, Democrat, and Llewellyn A. Banks, independent, his nearest opponents.

COURT HELD

HUNTINGTON PARK, Cal. — A kangaroo court was conducted at a recent meeting of Huntington Park Post of the American Legion with 56,045 for Edward Ballington. Approximately $25 was levied, Democratic candidate, and 42, raised in fines which will be $32 for Phil Metschan, Republican, used for entertainment purposes.

JUST LITTLE ODD JOBS

COL. ARTHUR WOODS, chairman of President Hoover's Emergency Committee, urges American families to combat unemployment by sprucing up their homes and having little odd jobs done.

MRS.—I heard Col. Woods last night on the National Emergency Hour.

MR.—That must be a new hook-up. What's the National Emergency Hour boosting—fire extinguishers?

MRS.—No, Col. Woods said it would relieve unemployment if every family spruced up its home.

MR.—A good idea. You might start by beating the living room rugs.

MRS.—Oh, but the idea is to have someone do the sprucing up for you.

MR.—Well, I don't mind having the rugs beaten, but don't pay more than 20 cents an hour. We shouldn't inflate this country again too quickly.

MRS.—Then I was thinking it would be nice if the kitchen walls were cleaned up a bit.

MR.—Speak to the cook about it.

MRS.—I spoke to her about it four months ago—that's why they need cleaning. We'll have to hire a man to come in.

MR.—Well, go ahead and clean the kitchen if it's really patriotic.

MRS.—And the time has come, I think, to get those new casement curtains for the sun porch. Col. Wood says so.

MR.—What does Emily Post say?

MRS.—She has always favored casement curtains.

MR.—Well, you, Emily Post and Col. Woods make it three against one. Go ahead and order them.

MRS.—If we can afford casement curtains we should have a new runner for the front hall stairs, too. We really need that more than curtains.

MR.—Are you trying to swing this country out of its depression single-handed?

MRS.—No, but you yourself said Col. Wood's suggestion was good.

MR.—But I thought you and Jennie were going to do the sprucing up.

MRS.—I intend to do the supervising. And as long as this is the ideal time to have little odd jobs done, don't you think I should order the new sleeping porch built on now?

MR.—If you put that sleeping porch on now I won't sleep for six months. Are you sure Col. Woods just spoke on sprucing up instead of a nation-wide construction program?

MRS.—No. He said little odd jobs should be done now to keep workmen from being idle.

MR.—And you call adding a new sleeping porch a little odd job?

MRS.—It will only take five carpenters. Col. Woods says there are 400,000 carpenters idle.

MR.—Listen, honey, if we're really cramped for sleeping space, why couldn't I just buy a tent for the backyard?

MRS.—But putting up a tent wouldn't give work to any people. That's the point of this drive.

MR.—Oh, well, I won't be a traitor to my country. Go ahead and have the sleeping porch built on.

MRS.—It isn't so expensive as you think. We won't have to furnish the sleeping porch, you know.

MR.—Why not? Are we going to sleep on the floor?

MRS.—No, but I'm going to move our present bedroom set into it. I've decided to get new furniture for the old bedroom.

MR.—And who's going to sleep there?

MRS.—It'll be a guest chamber. Don't you see, dear, all this helps the unemployment situation and will snap the country back to prosperity.

MR.—Dearie, we don't want to interfere with the country's prosperity, so here's what we'll do. I'll get a nice big second mortgage on the house and you can take in boarders in the guest room. That'll solve the unemployment problem. And my business being what it is, I think I'll join the carpenters' union or a bread line myself.

A Cedar Chest Closet

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

MR. or MRS. HOME MECHANIC can transform any clothes closet or window box into a cedar chest by using the device pictured. The transforming implement consists of a jar with a perforated screw top, containing cedar oil; a wooden drawer-shaped container, and a pair of groove-like supports, or attaching the container to a closet shelf or to the frame of a window box.

The container is also perforated to enable the fumes of the oil to diffuse through the box or closet, yet, it is so constructed that the oil cannot come in contact with clothing, or be spilled, or otherwise stain woodwork and articles surrounding the container. The top, which forms the slides for converting the container into a drawer, is screwed down tight to prevent the oil from seeping out on the wood supports.

The box part should be made as tight as possible, to prevent seepage. It is made of 1/2 inch wood, is 6 inches square and 4 inches deep. The cover is of 1/2 inch wood and 6 3/4 inches square and it is secured to the box part so as to extend beyond it 3/4 of an inch, all around. The grooves are also of 1/2 inch wood, and are made and attached as shown. The jar is about 3 inches by 2 1/2 inches. It should be only half filled with cedar oil.

The Housewife's Scrap Book

Saucepans should not be placed upside down on a solid shelf, as this excludes the air which they require; and never put a saucepan away with the cover on—a cover rack will take care of the lids.

When the gummed labels stick together do not wet them; just lay a sheet of thin paper over them and run a moderately hot iron over it.

Add a teaspoonful of powdered alum to the stove polish to assure your stove of a fine gloss that will last a long time.

Keep all the corks when you discard bottles; clean them and store them in a glass jar. You will find these handy when you break a cork trying to pry it out of a bottle.

Use your stale bread to clean the walls. This does not mean the bread must be hard—this might injure the paper.

soup, almost all other mushroom dishes, in fact, can be made from the small button mushrooms or canned or dried ones, but you must have the big fresh ones for stuffing. And if you have never eaten stuffed mushrooms, you have a rare treat in store for you. Last week I mentioned this unusual delicacy and said I would print the recipe if enough readers were interested. From the great response I gather that not only are many of you particularly fond of mushrooms but several are so unfamiliar with methods of cooking them that a few general rules are wanted. Here is the most important one. Don't cook them too long. And don't boil them in a big kettle of water, or much of the distinctive flavor will be lost. Simmer them in butter or cooking oil or bake them in cream for ten or fifteen minutes at most. Longer cooking makes them lose all crispness.

In the following recipe, cold chicken highly seasoned with Worcestershire sauce, salt, pepper and cayenne can be used in place of the canned deviled ham, but the latter is really better which is good news to the kitchenette cooks.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS
12 large mushrooms.
2 tablespoons butter or cooking oil.
4 tablespoons bread or cracker crumbs.
1 small can (3 tablespoons) deviled ham.
2 tablespoons cream.
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese.
2 tablespoons butter (in addition to that above).

Peel the caps and leave them whole. Chop the stems fine and cook them in butter or cooking oil for ten minutes. Remove from stove and stir in deviled ham, bread crumbs and cream. Spread the outside of each mushroom cap lightly with butter, then fill the inside of each mushroom cap with the deviled ham stuffing, rounding it well over the top. Sprinkle with grated cheese and bake in hot oven for fifteen minutes.

THE ERMINE TOPPED COAT AND THE NET RUFFLED GOWN SEEN AT SMART OPENINGS THIS WEEK are popular too. The cravat ties under the chin and the ends slip about, looking awfully well on the women who knew their types well enough to wear them smartly.

Brocade wraps are not in any way among the missing. In fact they are very much to the fore. Made of the stiff and very metallic brocades they sparkle interestingly in any of the smartly dressed crowds. The hand-sones one I saw was wrapped around to one side with sable trimming running all around the neckline down to the place where the side closing appeared at the waistline.

Large Corsage Flowers

BIG velvet flowers, soft and floppy looking, made their appearance on many of the evening gowns. Color is their chief right to existence. One was a lively yellow against a gown of dark brown net. One was a deep bronzy chrysanthemum color against a yellow gown. One I saw was a deep coral color with a dress of flesh pink satin.

Metal cloth dresses are everywhere. They are very simple, very stiff looking and really almost tailored in their making. They are absolutely without trimming and are worn with plain black or white wraps with plain crepe pumps and little or no jewelry.

Red lace has survived all its figures quite strikingly in keeping direction from various sources, and with the season's spirit of dress.

The Beauty Shop

By Frances Olivier

Copyright Press Publishing Company (New York World) 1930

HE was terribly in love. None of your puppy love either. He was thirty-three. He said she was "the only woman in the world" for him. And she was. He was the sort who wouldn't look at another woman.

When we first heard about her we asked a typically female question, "Is she pretty?"

"Pretty?" he mused. "No, not pretty, beautiful. Maybe you wouldn't think so. Very few people see her beauty. You know, it's the kind you can't put your finger on. You can't say she has beautiful eyes or beautiful skin. It isn't her figure either. Nevertheless, she is beautiful. Yes, maybe you could see it."

Woman-like, we were curious to have a look at the object of all this worship. And, professional-like, we were determined to find out just where all the beauty that you "couldn't put your finger on" was. Obviously there was something about this woman that completely fascinated this man. And he was a hard-to-please person, too. Successful, good looking, popular and intelligent. And so at length we saw her. But we couldn't see the beauty. She was good-looking, clean-cut, but there was no beauty there to see. And then she talked. And there was beauty. Beauty that you hear. The beauty of a colorful voice, a voice now deep, now high, but always perfectly modulated. The words flowed forth clean-cut, each one a thing perfect in itself. Here was culture and humanness, a real and extraordinary beauty.

It was not so much what she said or how much or how little—it was how she said it. Everything was spoken clearly and with infinite charm. She seemed to take genuine pleasure in the things that she spoke, and that pleasure was catching.

Do you know what we took away from that piece of labor? A lovely singing hope for girls who weren't born pretty and haven't much chance of making themselves pretty. There was a way for them to be beautiful and not too difficult way, to CHARM.

Anybody can learn to modulate her voice, and anybody can learn to pronounce her words correctly, distinctly and beautifully. All that it requires is care and practice. Perhaps a little training too in some cases, but not a great deal. There is much to be learned by listening to the speech of stage folk, remember.

And don't be shy or self-conscious about pronouncing your words correctly. Bother the people who call you affected because you say "ain't" the way the dictionary tells you to! It's much prettier the right way.

Touching Up the Kitchen

IF WE are lucky enough to have a real, honest-to-goodness kitchen, what with the modern one-room apartment-kitchenette arrangement, surely there is just cause to show it to its best advantage. With little effort the kitchen can be made into a room wholly attractive and agreeable not only for cooking purposes but also as a place for family and friends to dine.

To begin with, the kitchen walls can be painted as gayly as any of the parlors and dars. There is no need to fear gaudy or to cramp your style in the kitchen. Some ultramodern kitchens have fruits and vegetables painted on the cupboard doors, and amusing wall decorations of fish and chickens, looking for all the world like "out of the frying pan onto the wall."

Then the woodwork, doors, window frames, and even the cupboards, can be painted in colors to harmonize. If you have a few spare moments a waxing would be advisable to help protect the paint from dirt and possible kitchen spattering.

Checked gingham, ruffled voile or organdie curtains can be made to blend with the general scheme. If one really knows colors, combinations can be achieved by contrast, but here particular care must be taken. Kitchen utensils, both for cooking and cleaning, can also be obtained in harmonizing shades.

To add brightness to the kitchen floor, whether of linoleum, wood or tile, the gas ranges and cabinets can all be treated to a light waxing. Once these things have been waxed only an occasional dusting is necessary to keep them clean.

When the Cane Seat Sags

ASAGGING cane chair seat detracts from the good appearance of a room, so the defect is often concealed with a cushion. In many cases the chair is dispatched to the repair shop, but this is not necessary, for there is no mending to be done.

All you need do is turn the chair upside down and wash the cane, from the under side, with soap and water until thoroughly soaked; leave it standing in this position in the air, where it is sunny, until well dried. The seat will then be taut and firm.

Dry Your Shoes

DAMP shoes should always be dried but never placed too near a stove or a hot radiator. Place them on their sides in a warm room and, if possible, have them in a draft of dry air. They will dry more quickly if you stuff them with newspaper.

If shoes have not been properly dried after being wet they may become stiff. In that case wash them with warm water, then rub castor oil or glycerine well into them. The oil should be as warm as the hand will bear. Apply it with a sponge or soft cloth and rub it well into the leather with the fingers.

150 KILLED IN EXPLOSION AT MINE

inadequate. Calls from Pittsburgh and two companies of Athens National Guardsmen were called out to preserve order.

The explosion occurred as the day shift of 300 miners were eating their lunch. More than 100 men near the entry, escaped. Twenty-five others staggered out, their clothing smoking, their faces blackened.

Sudden Blast

Hastily formed rescue crews saved others but sheets of flaming gas drove them back. No one was prepared to cope with the emergency which, like most mine disasters, struck with terrifying suddenness.

Their one hope of escape, rescuers said, was that many of them provided they escaped the avalanche, could barricade themselves away from the deadly gas. Even this faint hope was dispelled, however, when a rescuer returned to the surface and reported 20 blackened bodies lying in one heap.

A gas pocket ignited by friction from a coal slide was believed responsible for the blast. It was so terrific it rocked the countryside and brought hysterical women and children to the scene.

Mine On Fire

Utter chaos prevailed, shrieking women and children besieged volunteer guards, fighting to get near the shaft entrance from which flames and clouds of dense smoke billowed.

There was no one left to take immediate charge. All of the officials, excepting Pete McKinley, mine foreman, were in the shaft. McKinley dashed into the shaft only to be repelled by the flames. He gathered a few miners about him and on the second attempt penetrated to the elevator car.

"It was awful," he said. "Everything was on fire. The walls collapsed and the fire was eating the timber supports. There was no stopping the fire without building fire walls."

President Missing

Among the missing was W. E. Titus, president of the coal company; District Manager Howard Unson of Columbus; Herbert Lancaster, mine engineer; Walter Hayden, mine superintendent; a man named Cohen and three or four company salesmen who accompanied the officials on their inspection trip.

At 7 p. m. Alphonso Jennings, 33, Hollister fire boss, was brought from the mine in an unconscious condition. Jennings was in the mine when the explosion let go.

Prowlers Rob Local Store

Burglars who gained entrance to Furrer's stationery store at 721 Macdonald avenue took approximately one dollar in pennies, four fountain pens, and several leather wallets. Richmond police reported yesterday.

Entrance to the store was gained through a rear window, it was learned when the place was opened for business yesterday.

WOMAN SLAIN AUBURN PRISON BY MAN FOR $2.00

for shooting her to death.

Wanted Child

Brown said that Ellis told him the woman was suffering from a serious disease and that her husband feared his small child was endangered sleeping with her. Ellis, who had been held, admitted inciting the crime. He admitted that his wife had no disease, but said that he wanted the child, which his wife had kept after their estrangement.

"Sunday morning I drove to the house where Mrs. Ellis and the baby were asleep," Brown said. "I climbed into the sleeping porch and stood beside the bed. I called her name 'Merle' and when she stirred I lost my nerve and drove away. After driving around for a while I went back and killed her with a shotgun."

The slight little prisoner, fit to the role of killer he confessed, pointed out that he was "careful not to harm the baby." The fatal shot tore away portions of the woman's upper body and head, but the child was merely bloodspattered.

Two Held

"After the murder Ellis told me to look behind a sign board on a certain street corner," Brown said. "I waited two hours and when I could find no money and Ellis didn't show up I knew I had been double-crossed."

Ellis said he "wanted the baby and I heard that Brown was a killer. I could have paid him $2,000 but I didn't have it all I had was two dollars."

Ellis and Brown were held in the county jail without bond after a coroner's jury had accused them late today. The verdict read:

"Mrs. Merle Cora Ellis died of gunshot wounds inflicted by Benjamin Franklin Brown, employed to the killing by Emory Ellis, with homicidal intent."

AUBURN, N. Y., Nov. 5.—UP—Auburn prison, nearly a year after it experienced one of the bloodiest riots in prison history, has taken on a new appearance.

The century-old institution appears much the same on the outside, with the exception of new additions, but inside the entire scheme of things has been altered.

New forces are at work. Trouble makers and hardened criminals have lost their power. Some are in "solitary." Others have been transferred to Clinton prison, Dannemora, and to other state institutions.

There have been many mechanical changes. New systems of doors have been installed. The prison is not as open as it once was, for doors separate different sections of the institution, much on the same plan as a ship.

The open stairway, leading from the first floor to the basement, where Principal Keeper George Durnford was shot to death, has been closed with steel walls. On the fifth tier in the south wing, walls are now bare of mirrors.

Ernest Pavese and Steve Pavlak, two of the slain ringleaders, made good use of mirrors to watch the progress of their pursuers.

The application of paint has brightened up the prison considerably. In the south wing, where the riot last December reached its climax, the bullet marked and blood splattered walls have been covered with pumpkin-yellow paint.

The mess hall has been painted white, as have the hallways leading to it.

Discipline is strict and when a convict disobeys orders or causes trouble swift justice follows. Solitary confinement and all that goes with it, is the penalty.

FIGHT OVER CONTROL OF CONGRESS

themselves 24 hours after Tuesday's election was over within three seats of a prize they had not dared let dream of—actual control of the Senate. However, at the very moment they edged nearest their triumph, their senatorial candidate in Iowa, Daniel F. Steck, conceded defeat at the hands of Rep. J. L. Dickinson, Republican candidate. This loss of a solitary Democratic seat cost the Democrats their chance at a clear over-all Senate majority.

Lost Control

The most they could hope for after that was to win one seat short of actual control, in which case the balance power would be held by the single farmer-labor member, Henrik Shipstead, of Minnesota. Another seat appeared possibly to be slipping from their grasp in Minnesota, where Senator Schall, Republican, after a poor start, was slowly catching up and threatening to overtake his Democratic opponent, Einar Holm.

The remaining seat in doubt was in Kentucky, where the result may not be known before tomorrow.

Both parties were in an equally desperate struggle for the house. Early tonight Republicans had elected 210 representatives and the Democrats 210. Only 14 districts were missing. The Democrats needed to win eight of these for a majority of the house, but the prospects were dubious. The missing districts were in Illinois, Kentucky, Missouri, Utah and Tennessee.

Big Struggle

The Democrats broke through the Republican lines in Illinois, taking six seats from their opponents.

In Ohio they seized another half dozen, in Nebraska they gained two and similar inroads were scattered about the country as straggling returns come over the wire.

The Republicans, on the other hand, were compelled to contend themselves with fighting to hold their own. They held the one Republican seat in Texas for Rep. Wurzbach, but they failed to recapture former President's Coolidge's home district in Massachusetts, where William L. Granger, an anti-prohibition Democrat, was reelected.

Republican Loses In Baltimore Vote

BALTIMORE, Nov. 5.—UP—Republican leaders today conceded defeat of Rep. Frederick N. Ziehlman, Rep., in the sixth congressional district by former Tariff Commissioner Davis Lewis, Dem. Ziehlman, known as "mayor of Washington" because of his chairmanship of the District of Columbia committee, was 3048 votes behind at the last tabulation, which included 57,000 votes.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS LAID IN CITY

as Nee, Spanish War Veterans; Dr. R. L. Spears, American Legion; J. E. Amiot, Foreign War Veterans; Bob Martin, Veterans of the Republic.

Each of the speakers will have a short message from their organization suitable for the occasion. Carlson's message is expected to dwell more in detail on the meaning of the fete.

A singer is to be named to lead the gathering in the National anthem. Several solos are expected to be sung at that time. Music will be furnished by the municipal band.

Line of March

In the line of march Eagle drum corps will make its first public appearance.

Grand Army of the Republic members and the auxiliary will ride in the line of march in automobiles to be provided for them. The national colors will be first in the line of march. Massed colors with an armed guard will also be in the parade.

Every patriotic organization in the city was preparing today for their part in the exercises while several other groups were expected to make plans to enter before the march actually begins.

Girls To March

A large demonstration is expected during the day. Macdonald avenue will be closed to traffic during the time the parade is underway.

The younger set will be represented in the march by Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, and Boy Scouts. They will be dressed in their respective uniforms. Veterans will also wear their uniforms, and decorations.

The committee which made arrangements for the fete were: Dr. L. R. Sears, S. S. Ripley, Thomas F. Nee, and Bob Martin. The line of march as planned by this committee follows:

City Officials

National colors with Spanish War Veterans guard, followed by Mayor A. B. Hinkley, grand marshal of the day. City officials will follow in automobiles, after whom will come the municipal band.

Marching police and fire department members will precede the massed colors, which will be conveyed by an armed guard.

Grand Army of the Republic members and the ladies will ride in automobiles behind the massed colors. War Mothers come next in the line. They will also ride in cars.

Vets To March

United Spanish War veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary, American Legion Auxiliary, United Veterans of the Republic auxiliary, will then follow in the order named. These bodies are expected to compose the largest marching delegation of the entire group.

American Red Cross, Eagles Drum corps, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls will follow. Additional organizations will then take their place in the line of march.

At Memorial hall grounds the formal part of the exercise will be held with Thomas F. Nee in charge.

DoX To Start Ocean Hop Soon

AMSTERDAM, Holland, Nov. 5.—UP—The Do-X, German flying boat, swerved out of the center of Europe and landed here today at the end of its first quick flight on a leisurely voyage through the air to New York.

The world's largest heavier than air flying machine thrilled a great crowd that awaited its coming all day as it swooped out of the sky to the south and touched its smooth broad hull to the water outside the navy airport. The flight from Lake Constance, 500 miles up the Rhine, had been made in seven hours.

The Do-X will remain here a few days, it was indicated, prior to continuing to England and thence to New York by way of Lisbon, Portugal and Bermuda.

Election Officer's Kidnapers Hunted

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—UP—The confused story of Rex V. Hedrick, Republican election worker, was the only guide in the possession of federal and city officers today as they searched for kidnapers who imprisoned the man during Tuesday's voting hours. He was freed late in the evening.

Hedrick, chairman of the Jackson county election board, was blinded with adhesive tape and beaten by his abductors.

In his possession were credentials for virtually all Republican watchers and challengers for rural Jackson county. He had sought re-canvass of registration in territory between Kansas City and Independence.

Democrat Leads In Kentucky Race

NEW LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 5.—UP—M. Mills Logan, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator continued to hold his early lead over Senator John M. Robison, Republican incumbent tonight and with 601 precincts of the state's 4138 tabulated he held a margin of 9,108.

The count was: Logan 48,806; Robison 37,698.

In the short term senatorial contest Ben Williamson was leading Robison by 6,990. Robison is a candidate for both berths.

The vote stood: Williamson 34,881; Robison 27,891.

W. H. Talbot Called By Death

HILLSBORO, Nov. 5.—UP—William H. Talbot, 72, who has been a prominent lumberman and financier on the Pacific coast for 50 years, died at his home here today.

He succumbed to an illness that had lasted several years, but had not prevented him from maintaining an active interest in affairs of the Pope and Talbot Lumber company, of which he was president.

Ralph Funeral Held Yesterday

Ralph had been residing with his daughter Mrs. Arthur McKenna, 1400 Bissell previous to his death. The Rev. Alden Pratt, conducted the services.

FALL FESTIVAL

FRANKFORT, Ohio.—J. Ellis, worth White Post 483 of the American Legion recently conducted a successful four-day fall festival. The profits paid off the mortgage on the post home, took care of some needed repairs and left a neat balance in the treasury.

TURKEY PRICES AT NEWEST LOW

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 5.—UP—The business depression has provided a medium through which more persons can observe the approaching Thanksgiving in traditional manner than in many years.

Along with other commodities, the price of turkeys has dropped, and produce dealers report the price is and will be lower this year than in more than a decade.

The United States turkey crop will be adequate to meet the demand, and despite the summer drought will be but three per cent below that of 1929, in the estimate of the Ben Abloh Produce company here, one of the largest shippers in the southwest which specializes in turkey trade.

The Texas crop will be about six percent below last year's, the firm predicted.
